

We cannot stress too often or too strongly: water, the lifeblood of Maseru, is drying up. Until the summer rains alleviate the position, it must be used for essential purposes only.

We believe that the people of Maseru will rally to our appeal with their customary understanding. Because of this, we are confident that we can win through in the end.

---

[Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]